

Society Handbook — Section 1

This section describes the operating procedures of the society office and the responsibilities of the managing committee. Members are requested to read it carefully and raise questions at the office during working hours.

The committee reviews the procedures periodically and circulates any changes through the notice board and the residents' group.

Society Handbook — Section 2

Board meeting on 5 November 2027.

This section describes the operating procedures of the society office and the responsibilities of the managing committee. Members are requested to read it carefully and raise questions at the office during working hours.

The committee reviews the procedures periodically and circulates any changes through the notice board and the residents' group.

Society Handbook — Section 3

This section describes the operating procedures of the society office and the responsibilities of the managing committee. Members are requested to read it carefully and raise questions at the office during working hours.

The committee reviews the procedures periodically and circulates any changes through the notice board and the residents' group.

Society Handbook — Section 4

This section describes the operating procedures of the society office and the responsibilities of the managing committee. Members are requested to read it carefully and raise questions at the office during working hours.

The committee reviews the procedures periodically and circulates any changes through the notice board and the residents' group.

Society Handbook — Section 5

This section describes the operating procedures of the society office and the responsibilities of the managing committee. Members are requested to read it carefully and raise questions at the office during working hours.

The committee reviews the procedures periodically and circulates any changes through the notice board and the residents' group.

Society Handbook — Section 6

This section describes the operating procedures of the society office and the responsibilities of the managing committee. Members are requested to read it carefully and raise questions at the office during working hours.

The committee reviews the procedures periodically and circulates any changes through the notice board and the residents' group.

Society Handbook — Section 7

This section describes the operating procedures of the society office and the responsibilities of the managing committee. Members are requested to read it carefully and raise questions at the office during working hours.

The committee reviews the procedures periodically and circulates any changes through the notice board and the residents' group.

Society Handbook — Section 8

This section describes the operating procedures of the society office and the responsibilities of the managing committee. Members are requested to read it carefully and raise questions at the office during working hours.

The committee reviews the procedures periodically and circulates any changes through the notice board and the residents' group.

Society Handbook — Section 9

This section describes the operating procedures of the society office and the responsibilities of the managing committee. Members are requested to read it carefully and raise questions at the office during working hours.

The committee reviews the procedures periodically and circulates any changes through the notice board and the residents' group.

Society Handbook — Section 10

This section describes the operating procedures of the society office and the responsibilities of the managing committee. Members are requested to read it carefully and raise questions at the office during working hours.

The committee reviews the procedures periodically and circulates any changes through the notice board and the residents' group.

Society Handbook — Section 11

This section describes the operating procedures of the society office and the responsibilities of the managing committee. Members are requested to read it carefully and raise questions at the office during working hours.

The committee reviews the procedures periodically and circulates any changes through the notice board and the residents' group.

Society Handbook — Section 12

Audit due 19 November 2027.

This section describes the operating procedures of the society office and the responsibilities of the managing committee. Members are requested to read it carefully and raise questions at the office during working hours.

The committee reviews the procedures periodically and circulates any changes through the notice board and the residents' group.

Society Handbook — Section 13

This section describes the operating procedures of the society office and the responsibilities of the managing committee. Members are requested to read it carefully and raise questions at the office during working hours.

The committee reviews the procedures periodically and circulates any changes through the notice board and the residents' group.

Society Handbook — Section 14

This section describes the operating procedures of the society office and the responsibilities of the managing committee. Members are requested to read it carefully and raise questions at the office during working hours.

The committee reviews the procedures periodically and circulates any changes through the notice board and the residents' group.